General Information

FUN BREAKFAST

This project is a great way to generate some funds while having a real fun time! It's just a new twist on a church or community breakfast and it is great fun for everyone!

Here is how it works:

First you need to plan a menu with as many different items as practically possible. Once you have established your menu, write a list of all the items you will be serving at your breakfast, and also list things like plate, napkin, spoon, fork, knife, butter, syrup, salt, pepper, milk, orange juice, etc. List everything you will be serving or using to serve your customers. Now you need to name all the items you just listed with a name that is fun and somewhat related to the real item, but is perhaps a little vague so the customer may not be able to figure out what the item is by its newly given name. Keep a master list with the actual name of the item, and the "fun" name, for your kitchen crew, but when you make the menus for the customers, list only the newly given "fun" name for each item. When the customers read their menus, they will have to try and order the items they want, using only the "fun" names provided on the menu. (Example: You might name a fork a pitch fork, so when they order a pitchfork, they get a regular fork. You might name a spoon a shovel, so if they order a shovel, they get a spoon). Get the idea? Pancakes might be fluffy Frisbees, Eggs might be scrambled chickens, etc. You can come up with some fun names for all the items. Don't make them all easy. It makes it really fun when people get some crazy orders because they were not sure what they were asking for. It's great fun! I have included a sample menu (last page of this document). They just circle the items they want to order.

Set a date and time for the breakfast well in advance and promote it big. Charge whatever you decide, but make sure you cover your costs for food and supplies. We would suggest having a sign up sheet so people can register in advance for the breakfast. This will give you an idea of how much food and supplies you will need. Get a little extra for last minute walk-ins.
